Tokyo on Foot - Contemporary Japanese Literature

Tokyo on Foot: Travels in the City's Most Colorful Neighborhoods is an illustrated guide to some of the best neighborhoods in Tokyo, Japan. The book is compiled by Florent Chavouet, who lived in Tokyo for 6 months as an expat while his girlfriend completed an internship with a company here.

This prize-winning book is both an illustrated tour of a Tokyo rarely seen in Japan travel guides and an artist's warm, funny, visually rich, and always entertaining graphic memoir. Florent Chavouet, a young graphic artist, spent six months exploring Tokyo while his girlfriend interned at a company there. Each day he would set forth with a pouch full of color pencils and a sketchpad, and visit ...

Tokyo on Foot is divided into neighborhoods, with each section opening with a drawing of the local kōban (police station) and a highly detailed annotated map. What follows this map are several pages of drawings of buildings, street corners, storefronts, landmarks, and occasionally people that the artist observed in the neighborhood.
